INTRODUCTION.

THE production of this work was undertaken with a view to create a ripple of amusement from the examination of the sketches of our many friends displayed within these pages.

Our aim has been to portray the hobbies and characteristics of our subjects in a humorous and friendly spirit, and we feel assured of its reception and appreciation in a kindly manner, accepting our efforts as a tribute to the generous co-operation of our patrons.

While many indulge in the same forms of pleasure and recreation or are engaged in the same line of business or profession, no two sketches are similar, each drawing being executed from suggestions obtained through careful inquiry.

Our mission is to arouse smiles (and occasional frowns), and although in this work we have bent all our energies to create the former, we must ask your kind indulgence should we in any way have given rise to the latter.

Much time has been consumed in obtaining photographs from which to make our sketches, nearly one hundred of these being furnished from the studio of Mrs. Ethel C. Standiford to whom we are greatly indebted for the excellent likenesses supplied, her thorough knowledge of the style of picture required being of great assistance in our reproductions.

Great care has been bestowed in the preparations of the etchings used; that the well-known firm of Heybach-Bush Co. having had the making of them speaks for their excellence.

The paper used in this book was selected by the J. C. Parker Paper Co. with a view of enabling the printer to maintain the highest standard of work.

The printing and binding was done by the Geo. G. Fetter Company, no comment being necessary, their well-known reputation for highly finished work being sufficient recommendation.

We are indebted to the following railroad companies for their courteous treatment on the occasion of journeys made in connection with our work: The "Monon," B. & O. S. W. Ry., I. C. R. R., Southern Railway, and L. H. & St. L. Ry.

With apologies to any of our friends whom we may have inadvertently treated with too much levity, and pleading in extenuation the license of our profession,
